BACKGROUND

Everything is peaceful and still. Monitoring is still taking place via satellite reconnaissance, but nothing dangerous has been spotted in the last few months, except for enemy flights patrolling the no fly zones along the coast.

CURRENT SITUATION

We have received what is believed to be very reliable intelligence from a ground based source (in exchange for assylum, immunity and a lifetimes supply of lemon sherbert sweets) that the bad dudes have started manufacturing the worst, most powerful weapons of mass destruction known to mankind. If used effectively these weapons could wipe out the entire western world in a matter of days. This weapon is of course the furbie! The bad dudes have got hold of the blueprints and have started mass producing these little critters, ready for release just in time for christmas. If they are not stopped.... its not worth imagining what our lives will become!

MISSION DETAILS

Weather -

Wind: 180 @ 5kts

Cloud: 7000ft msl base

Enemy -

Air threats: As already mentioned the bad dudes are operating CAP patrols along the no fly zones and once our attack has been noticed it is likely that the bad dudes will try and intercept us.

Aircraft and bases:

Dubrovnic (069 x 208): G-4, J-22, Mi-8 and Su-25.

Mostar (056 x 204): Mig-21F, Mig-21PF, Mig-21FM and Mig-21PFM.

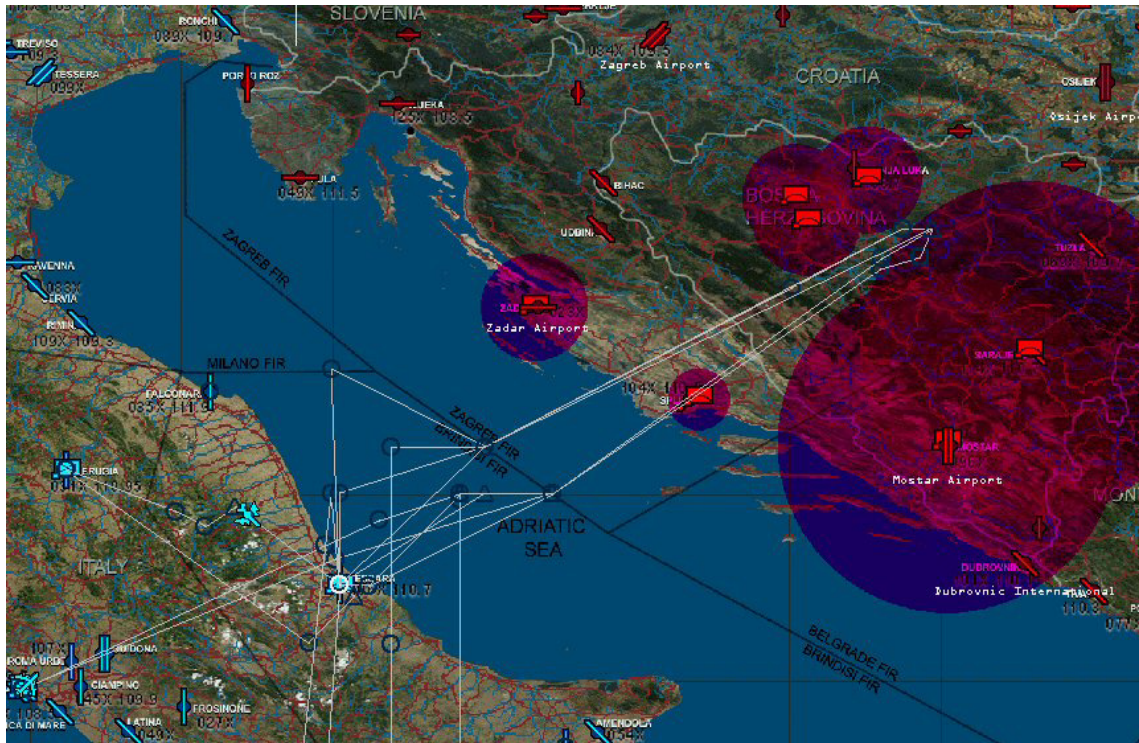

Osijek (043 x 324): An-2 and An-24.

Zadar (011 x 165): Mig-23MLD.

Zagreb (016 x 263): Mig-29A, Mig-29G and Mig-33.

Ground threats: There are many ground based threats including mobile and AAA so stay alert.

Friendly -

Target -

This is the primary target:

And we will be using 1 of these:

Plus 24 of these these:

To destroy them once and for all.

Route -

No refuelling allowed by F16s unless enroute to RTB.

Flight plans are free except for Cowboy1.

Cowboy1 must arrive at stpt3 on time and stay as close to Bone1 as possible until threatened A-A. Bone1 will be refuelling on ingress to the Bad dudes coast, from stpt 3 onwards until he is full up.

Goodluck! And dont look into their eyes!
