CURRENT SITUATION

After the discovery of huge underground reserves of oil all along the old DMZ, a United Korea has seen North and South live together in harmony for several years, until now. China has taken to the idea of annexation of the peninsula, no doubt spurred on by the oil reserves and the countries desperate need for this now precious commodity.

China recently declared war, so your squadron has been tasked to fly regular DCA sorties along the Yalu River, famously known as the "MiG Alley" back in the first Korean War. It is anticipated the Chinese will try to disrupt the IADS very early in the war, and as such its your primary job to ensure Unsan Radar Station remains 100 percent operational.

MISSION DETAILS

You need to remain on station until 08.00hrs, during which time the Unsan Radar Station must remain at 100 percent operational.

All other details are available in the Online Planner. Good luck and enjoy the scenery!
