BACKGROUND

Day 1 of the war caused by border incursions by the bad dudes.

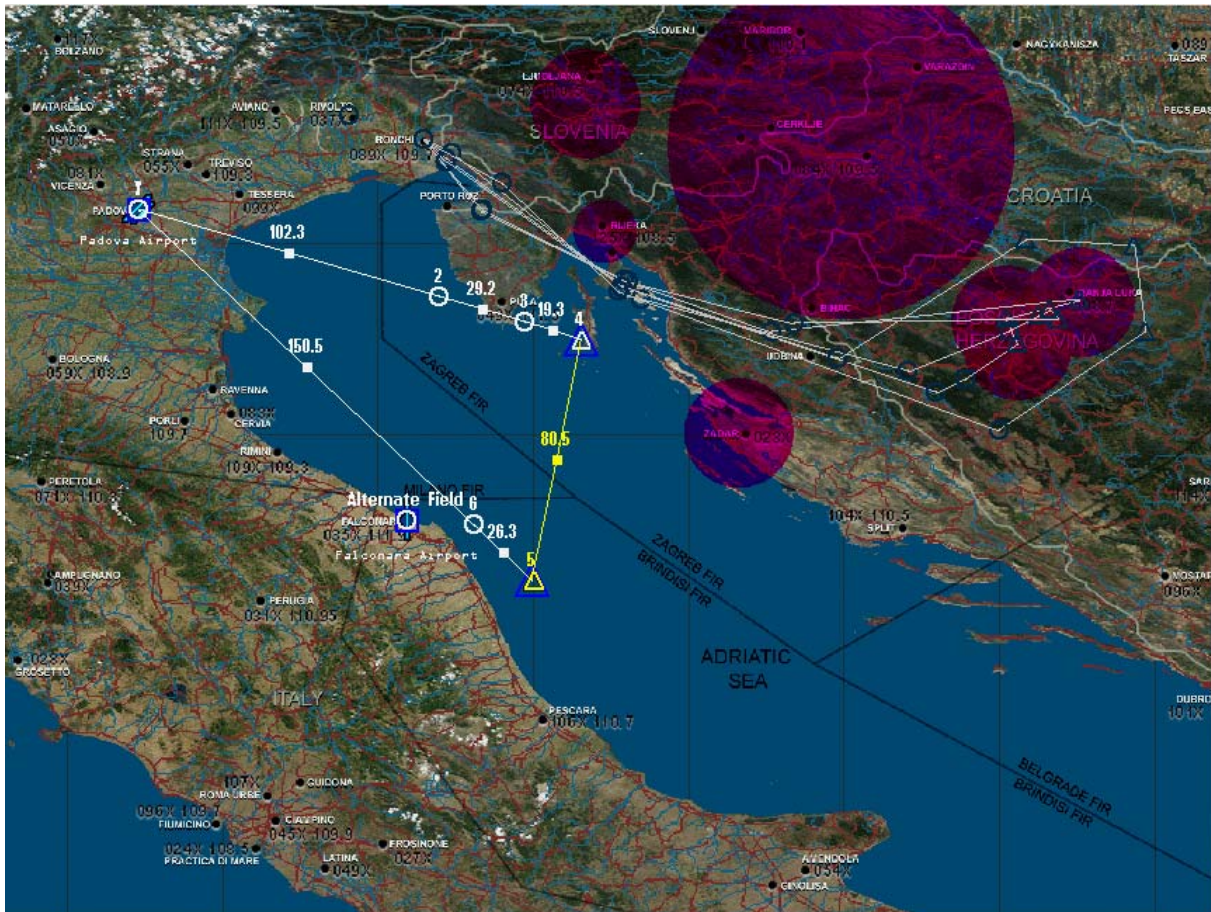

CURRENT SITUATION

This is the first offensive flight in the air. The air defenses for the bad dudes are not all in place and command hopes to exploit a temporary gap to shut down currently operational air defenses and factories in the Banja Luka area to slow down war production for the bad dudes and give an instant, permanent advantage for the rest of the wars' duration.

MISSION DETAILS

Route –

You will all take off from Ronchi De Legionari and it is advised that you follow the route below since it is easiest to avoid all currently active SAMs until the target site, although some may be almost ready and become active during flight so stay alert). You can also see the patrol area of the JSTAR, AWACS, tanker and HAVCAP.

Weather – Take off: 0700hrs. Weather at target and homeplate: Wind - 180 deg @ 5kts, temp - 20°C, clouds - overcast @ 7000ft, visibility - 14nm excellent.

Enemy – Enemy aircraft are still being prepared and will be slow to react to our attack. We suspect they will try and intercept our flights around the target area.

Friendly – Refer to the table at the start of the briefing.
