Background

Our forward Airbases at Ronchi and Rivilto have been under attack and feared lost. We are back-pedalling in a desperate attempt to prevent enemy forces engaging more of our Northern Airbases. The enemy are using interesting tactics such as sending in less advanced aircraft like kamikaze in initial waves followed by more advanced fighters escorting ground attack aircraft. Our pilots have been caught out, expending slammers on the older fighters only to be engaged in the next wave by advanced R77 capable fighters. We are now forced to fight with depleting stocks of AIM 120s!
