The map:

As you see, there are three SA5 battallions in the region.

The one south of our target is to be hit by the SEAD strike 3706.

Intel reports a HQ battallion in the area of our target, exact location unknown at the moment.
Keep a sharp lookout for those guys.... They can be at our target which makes any attack very risky.

Be on time, the Sweep is tasked to be in the area approx 5 mins ahead of you to clear out any enemy threats in the air. Due to the intense training flights the enemy undertake at the target you may find yourself heavily outnumbered by enemy fighters. Most likely inexperienced pilots, but nevertheless..... let the sweep do their job and you will have less resistance facing you.

Good Luck!
